Behavioral Expectations

The Pillars of Our Community

Honor, respect, responsibility, and kindness are the pillars of our community. The behavioral expectations associated with this class are built around these virtues. Students who act with integrity and show respect for others, while exercising responsibility and kindness, will be in good standing as it pertains to discipline in this classroom. Because we are a community of learners, the expectation is that all of us will follow the rules, respect the spirit of the rules, and be thoughtful and inclusive.

Bullying

Because bullying behavior can profoundly disrupt the harmony of our school, and cause distrust, we will be vigilant about rooting it out even if it is not clearly visible in the classroom. Don't poison the well! If you are threatening, excluding, or demeaning another person you are harming our community.

Green Chair

Should a student not be acting in accordance with the pillars of our community the student may be sent to the green chair which is in the Gardner Hall commons. The student shall remain in the green chair until asked by Mr. McLeod to return to the classroom.

Student and Parent Conferences

Should a student show a pattern of not acting in accordance with the pillars of our community, Mr. McLeod will meet privately with the student, and if necessary, the parents of the student.

Silent Lunch and Demerits

Should behaviors warrant, a silent lunch will be assigned to the student. For more egregious behaviors that run counter to our community values and rules, Mr. McLeod may assign a demerit.

Honor Code

From the 2023-2024 Family Handbook:

At Grymes Memorial School, we believe that the development of a personal code of ethics and conduct is essential to any honor system. All members of the Grymes community are responsible for creating and maintaining trust within the community. Grymes Memorial School's ethics are defined by the Honor Code, which states that students will not lie, cheat, or steal. This behavior, along with bullying, harassment and disrespect will not be tolerated.

Academic Expectations

Google Classroom

Google Classroom is a portal that allows students to view the assignments and announcements for all of their classes. Students are expected to log-in to Google Classroom on a daily basis to see assignments and announcements. Students are expected to have a working understanding of how Google Classroom operates and how to properly submit assignments within Google Classroom. Google Classroom allows students to access their History materials and assignments at any time on any computer using an internet connection.

Completing Assignments in a Punctual Manner

Students are expected to complete assignments in a punctual manner. Penalties will be assessed for work completed late. Assignment deadlines can be seen in Google Classroom and due dates are also noted within Veracross.

Presentations, Interactive Notebooks, and Study Guides

Mr. McLeod will make his presentations available to students in the form of Google Slides which will be posted on Google Classroom. Students will complete notes about these presentations in an interactive notebook and submit their completed interactive notebooks through Google Classroom. The textbook, Google Slide presentations, and completed interactive notebooks should be used to complete study guides which will also be submitted through Google Classroom.

Quizlet

Quizlet assignments will be given to help students master content and prepare for tests. Quizlet assignments will be assigned in Google Classroom and completed on the Quizlet site. Upon completing the assignment students are expected to complete a form in Google Classroom indicating that the assignment has been completed.

Tests

Tests will be composed of ten identify questions, worth 6 points each, and two paragraph response questions worth 20 points each. All test questions will be chosen from the study guide.

The Planner

Each student is issued a planner at the beginning of the school year. Students should write their assignments and assessments in their planners on a daily basis.

Semester Exams

A semester exam is given at the end of each semester. The first semester exam addresses information from the first and second quarters. The second semester exam addresses material from the third and fourth quarters.

Semester Grades

Each of the two quarter grades in a semester count three times in the computation of semester grades. The semester exam counts once in the computation of semester grades. The sum of this computation is divided by seven to determine the semester grade. If Johnny earned an 80% average for the first quarter, a 90% average for the second quarter, and a 78% average for the semester exam, the computation to determine the semester grade would be as follows:

$$(3 \times 80) + (3 \times 90) + (1 \times 78) = 588 / 7 = 84\%$$

Grade for the Year

The grade for the year is the average of the two semester grades. If Mary earned an 80% average for the first semester and a 90% average for the second semester, the computation to determine the grade for the year would be as follows:

$$80 + 90 = 170; 170 / 2 = 85\%$$

Summarize the most significant developments of the George Washington administration. In your one paragraph essay be sure to include a strong topic sentence and information about Washington's cabinet, the Bank of the United States, the Pinckney Treaty, the Whiskey Rebellion, and Washington's Farewell Address.

Example Paragraph Essay Response

During the presidency of George Washington there were several developments of importance. As the first president George Washington did much to organize the new national government established under the Constitution. He appointed four executive department heads and often met with this cabinet to discuss issues. Thomas Jefferson acted as the first secretary of the State Department while Alexander Hamilton became the first secretary of the Treasury Department. Hamilton proposed a plan which involved the creation of the Bank of the United States to handle the financial matters of the new government and to improve the nation's credit. In 1795 the U.S. and Spain signed the Pinckney Treaty in which Spain agreed to open the lower Mississippi River to U.S. trade. Farmers in western Pennsylvania refused to pay the federal excise tax on whiskey in what became known as the Whiskey Rebellion. Washington federalized 15,000 troops and personally went to Pennsylvania to put down the rebellion showing the power of the federal government. Finally, in his Farewell Address, Washington warned against getting involved in European affairs and forming political parties.
